REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION TO DISMISS
PETITION FOR A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS AS MOOT

Came for consideration the Petition for a Writ of Habeas Corpus by a Person in State Custody filed by petitioner JACOB ROLLINS. By his application, petitioner challenges the result of a disciplinary proceeding which resulted in the forfeiture of two hundred (200) days previously accrued good time credits. Specifically, petitioner alleges the finding that he committed a disciplinary violation can not stand because he was (1) denied the right to prepare a defense while he was held in pre-hearing detention; (2) denied the right to effective assistance of counsel at the disciplinary hearing; and (3) subjected to cruel and unusual punishment in that his pre-hearing detention holding cell did not have water or a toilet, he was held there more than nine (9) hours, and is diabetic.

Inquiry to the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, Correctional Institutions Division on this date reveals petitioner was released from confinement to mandatory supervision on February 15, 2006.¹ Petitioner's release from confinement renders the instant habeas application moot. Petitioner challenges only the disciplinary proceeding in this action and the resulting loss of good time credits. Consequently, the only relief available to petitioner if successful in this matter was the restoration of the good time credits forfeited by the disciplinary action. As petitioner has been released to mandatory supervision and is no longer incarcerated, his request for a return of good time credits is moot. Under Texas Government Code section 498.003(a), "[g]ood conduct time applies only to eligibility for parole or mandatory supervision as provided by Section 508.145 or 508.147 and does not otherwise affect an inmate's term." Therefore, it is the opinion of the undersigned that because of petitioner's release to mandatory supervision, the issues raised in his writ of habeas corpus are moot under the continuing controversy requirement and that such petition should be dismissed.
